ABOUT KELLY

I have been teaching Community & Family Studies since 2004, and early on I realised that CAFS teachers needed (and wanted) more support and I did all I could.

I have co-authored two textbooks, presented numerous study sessions and mentored teachers at professional development days and conferences for over 10 years.

These days I support thousands of CAFS teachers and their students inside The Learning Network.

My mission:

To provide all of the support, encouragement, resources and information you need to help your CAFS Crew succeed without compromising your time & wellbeing in the process!

MORE ON THE MASTERCLASS

Teachers are time poor...

Let me develop a session for your students that is tailored to the unique needs of your students and hits significant concepts in CAFS so you get some time back to enhance your wellbeing.

I know teachers are busy, I am here to ease that stress. Let me use my intimate knowledge of the Community and Family Studies course to strategically guide your students on their journey to success as they prepare for their exams, assessments, Trials & HSC.
