The Learning Network Podcast

ABOUT KELLY

I have been teaching Community & Family Studies since 2004, and early on I realised that CAFS teachers needed (and wanted) more support and I did all I could.

I have co-authored two textbooks, presented numerous study sessions and mentored teachers at professional development days and conferences for over 10 years.

These days I support thousands of CAFS teachers and their students inside The Learning Network.

My mission:

To provide all of the support, encouragement, resources and information you need to help your CAFS Crew succeed without compromising your time & wellbeing in the process!
